Technology Excellence

It gives me immense pleasure to share a landmark achievement of Malineni Lakshmaiah Women's Engineering College — our first-of-its-kind collaboration with Accenture for establishing AWS Cloud Academy & FSD Academy for Technology Excellence on 01-09-2026

This collaboration is a significant step towards strengthening our students' industry exposure, technology skills, and career readiness.

I request all faculty members to actively promote and widely circulate this achievement through your WhatsApp groups, student groups, social media platforms, status, and all relevant networks.

Let us collectively give this landmark collaboration the visibility it deserves and take the achievement of our college to a much wider audience.
